

Webmaster Report December 2022

An online shop has been added to the Society's website. Several items have been set up for sale and there has been a few sales to date. Members of the Publications Committee, in particular Jane, have worked producing files for each item. These files include sample pages, contents page, a cover image, and an item information page.

It is planned that each item will also be available for download in pdf form. This requires some work by the Pub Committee and Clive, involving setting up the file(s) and calculating the download price.

It may also be possible in the future to add non-book items to the shop. This may include payments for membership, research, bonnet kits and raffles. PayPal may be added as an option for payment.
