

Webmaster Report June 2023

Recently, the first successful purchase was made of a downloadable item from our online shop.

The Female Convicts of the Hunter Valley committee were shown a draft version of a new website aimed at promoting its work. This website will go live on the Internet during the next few months when its content is finalised.

It is anticipated that a downloadable version of our publication They Sent Me North will become available in our online shop when the current revision of that work is completed.
