

SANDGATE GROUP QUARTERLY REPORT SEPTEMBER 2023

Since the successful Whitebridge Cemetery Tour, the Sandgate Group has been very quiet.

However, we are about to start becoming active again.

The group coordinator has been in touch with the current management of the cemetery to explore the possibility of future tours with the result that in the near future we will be holding a ZOOM meeting with the management representative, Anita McBride, who is based in Sydney.

She has invited us in the past to attend physical meetings in Sydney but that invitation has not been accepted because of the distance and time involved and unavailability of members to take that on, so the ZOOM meeting will achieve at least part of the objectives of such meetings.

It will be pleasant to get back 'into gear' on Sandgate, although most members of the group have taken on other commitments during the time since our last Sandgate tours – we will be discussing ways to encourage more members to join us if and when we are able to come to agreement with the management on the ways the tours will be organised in the future.

Margaret Ashford
