A NOTE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Lynda Smith – President – LM2

As the saying goes, it's been a mixed bag, as far as Group activities are concerned, so far in 2024

On the positive side, we have signed a five year lease with Central Coast Council at a peppercorn rent. Work is yet to begin on the demolition/rebuilding of the two fire-damaged buildings at the top of our access driveway. A DA has been submitted and, once approved by the Dept. of Local Government, the badly damaged building will be fully demolished. Until this is done, the full extent of the damage to the second building cannot be confirmed. It is hoped that the second building can be repaired and returned to its former use.

Members who have attended our various social events this year have enjoyed themselves. The St. Patrick's Day event was a chance for attendees to display their Irish ancestry. Next year we propose that some of their stories be told in more detail, so get researching! Remember we have an active Irish Special Interest Group. Its next meeting is in May, so come along and learn something new. Make use of our other SIGs as well as our monthly Zoom sessions on different topics. The main aim of our group is to help people with their research.

We had to cancel our Military Matters Seminar this month due to low participation numbers. The speakers we had scheduled would have provided great insight into the holdings of the National Archives, and the ANZAC Memorial in Hyde Park. There were two bus trips scheduled for the near future but the Sandgate Cemetery trip has been cancelled. The second is to Museums of History Kingswood [aka NSW State Archives] on June 1. It is hoped that this will be fully booked and that members will gain some new information from visiting these locations.

On a personal note, I have found some new European connections of late, and am enjoying the challenge of deciphering unusual surname/first name spellings and locating far away home towns. One family is from southern Denmark [the ELLMOOS] and another from the Netherlands [VRINS]. As you can imagine, spelling variations abound for these two! I have also made great use of our subscription to the Biographical Database of Australia and our early V rolls of NSW BDMs pre 1856 to tidy up some of my early convict and pioneer families. I have also tracked family movements in New Zealand by accessing school records for many on my father's side. The entries can provide actual dates of birth for the student, a parent's name and address, previous school, dates of enrolment/leaving and next destination. Such a treasure!

Our excellent Cottage resources are vastly under-utilised. Not everything can be found via Ancestry or Google. Please make an effort to visit the Cottage on a regular basis. If you can't physically get to the Cottage, please send your enquiries in via email, wfhg06@westnet.com.au or phone [02 4351 2211] and chat with one of our administrators. Your query can be investigated by our excellent Volunteer Research Assistants or our Librarian.

On that note, we are in need of more members to help maintain the Research Assistant roster. A number of regulars are enjoying overseas trips at present and others have had to withdraw with family commitments or personal illness. If you can spare just one day a month, from 10am-3pm, we would love to hear from you. Please contact Cheryl on 0422 013 888 or Cheryl.26@bigpond.com

To those members who have recently lost loved ones, our sincere condolences. Please know we are here to support you in any way we can. Take care, Lynda. ... ❖

A NOTE FROM YOUR EDITOR

Helen Johnston-Lord member 505

Welcome to our May 2024 edition.

This time we are featuring Budgewoi. I would like to thank those who have provided Helen Burkett and myself with their memories and comments. Sorting through the information available has been absorbing and I have discovered much interesting information about this area. We hope to highlight other areas here on the magical Central Coast.

Please enjoy this issue and your stories and reactions are always welcome. Email your stories to me at wfhgtol@westnet.com.au Our next deadline is 21 July 2024. ... ❖

ACCESSIBILITY

Our wheelchair accessibility has been closed temporarily due to the fire in April 2023. Central Coast Council are unable to tell us a date when we can again use our access road and carpark. The Cottage has one basic accessible toilet.

If you find our hill and stairs a challenge too far, contact the Cottage on 4351 2211 and someone will be happy to help you safely to our door. ... ❖

WYONG HISTORY WALK 2024

Lyn Clark-Duff, member 907

On Saturday, 10 February Wyong Family History Group was involved in the Love Lanes Festival held in the Wyong CBD, Wyong Town Park and surrounding areas. I was privileged to be in the first session of the "John Wayne Show" and learnt a great deal about the history of Wyong. John Selwood shared his knowledge about the pioneers and early businesses of Wyong and Wayne did a wonderful job trying to match the historical photos to each stage of the talk.

Meanwhile, Lyn Hagstrom along with hubby Paul did a wonderful public relations job talking to interested parties about what we do and how we may be able to help them and handing out pamphlets. I believe Chris Ullrich joined them after I left. I cannot take any credit – I was simply a consumer on this occasion.

Well done John, Wayne and Lyn. ... ❖

DID YOU KNOW HELP IS AVAILABLE?

As a member you are entitled to assistance when you're doing research here at the 'Cottage'. Volunteers are on duty every day ready and waiting to help you locate records and even add flesh to some your ancestor's bones with such details as where they lived, what they did and perhaps even what they looked like. ... ❖

AT THE COTTAGE

Australia Day Morning Tea – Celebrating Our National Day

Lamingtons and Australian Flags were all part of our Aussie Morning Tea.

25 January: Eight members made a special effort to attend our morning tea despite the rather unpleasant hot weather that day. An excellent morning was had by all with an abundance of food, some enjoyable background music and special decorations to set the mood.

St. Patrick's Day Morning Tea

A dozen or so members celebrated at the 'Cottage' on 21st March and all had a fun morning.

We left our Irish research names up on the wall for those who attend the Irish SIG later in the month. Please check them out and add to the collection if you have any Irish ancestors.

Special thanks to those who brought the huge amount of nibbles, we had leftovers as usual.

It would be lovely to see more in attendance at such social events. It would also be helpful if members put their name down on the booking sheets. If we don't have many names down, there is the possibility that events will be cancelled. We also need to know how many to cater for at social events. It would be unforgivable to not have enough food!

Anzac Day Commemoration

10 members attended our Anzac Day Commemoration morning on 24 April. All were most impressed by the display and quantity of material available from our library. Well done to the organisers.

February General Meeting

Regina Hogan Member 768

At our inaugural meeting of the year held last Saturday, attendees enjoyed an engaging presentation by fellow member Robert Patton. Through captivating photos and stories, Robert took us on a fascinating journey along the Old Silk Road in India and Pakistan. Notably, this gathering marked our first hybrid meeting, with some members participating via Zoom.

March General Meeting

Unfortunately, due to unexpected circumstances, our Guest Speaker Danielle Lautrec was unable to attend this meeting, we hope to include her talk on Improving Your Family History in our future schedule.

One of the recorded sessions from last year's Conference made an interesting and informative substitute.

April General Meeting

Regina Hogan Member #533

Meeting attendees enjoyed an engaging talk by Lyn Parkes from Creightons Funeral Service during last Saturday's general meeting, held both at the Cottage and on Zoom. Lyn covered various aspects of funeral arrangements, and graciously fielded numerous attendee questions, providing valuable insights and information.

CENTRAL COAST REGIONAL SEMINAR 2024

On 2nd March, four of our members attended the Central Coast Regional Seminar where we heard tips on how to use trove and researching passenger arrivals from Christine Yeats, and a great talk on, "It's not all on line", finding hard copy documents from Archive collections and the holdings of History House and its library by Professor Carol Liston. Both excellent well known speakers I'm sure everyone learnt something from the day's topics.

Central Coast Family History Society made us most welcome it was lovely collaborating with like minded people from another group . The CCFHS did a great job with yummy morning, afternoon tea and lunch

CENTRAL COAST COUNCIL SENIORS FESTIVAL EXPO

Kerrie Metcalfe LM (80)

Held on 21st March at Wyong Racecourse. Roger and I set up a PR stall to promote our group and I am pleased to say we had a steady stream of people showing an interest. There were seventy-nine stall holders with valuable information from local businesses, services, and community groups from around the coast. it attracted 500 visitors. If you missed it this year keep a look out for the 2025 Seniors Expo, you won't be disappointed with the information this event showcases. ... ❖

Zoom Meetings

Helen Johnston-Lord member 505

These enjoyable meetings are a wonderful way to stay in touch with fellow members, and where they are with their research.

Our themed topics have shown us how many of you are experimenting with PowerPoint or similar software, this is a good place to show your efforts. ... ❖

What's Available From The Cottage ... Gene Jotters & More

Most, if not all of the older members, will know about the wide variety of resources we have available for sale here at the 'Cottage' including such things as the ever popular Gene Jotters.

What many of you may not be aware of are the Building Your Family History Starter Kit folders costing just $5 each. The folder includes some charts inside some plastic sleeves and would be a useful gift for anyone who has an interest in genealogy.

SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS

Here at Wyong Family History Group Inc. we offer a range of Special Interest Groups [SIG] where members with common interests meet, learn, practise and share their special interest. Moderators/Co-ordinators are keen to share their knowledge with others. Please support them.

All are held at 'The Cottage'. Times are available on our Calendar [page 38]

BOOKINGS ARE ESSENTIAL – Remember, if you book and are unable to attend, please phone and cancel.

SIGs go for one to two hours

Multi-Media Devices – Roger Lewis & Ellen Sheerin continue this group helping attendees sort through their questions no matter what the media or device.

DNA Special Interest Group – After the DNA test, you may be wondering about the next step or how to understand your DNA results. Whether or not you already have your results back, why not come along to our DNA SIG meetings for some guidance. DNA enthusiasts old and new, all welcome! ... Stuart Purvis-Smith

FAMILY TREE MAKER – This popular SIG continues. Watch the Newsletter for topics for the next session.

Numbers are limited – Bookings Essential

KEITH JOHNSTON MEMBER #340

Lynda Smith, President

Sadly, Keith Johnston, passed away on Sunday April 21st. Keith had been very unwell for some time. He had been a member for over 15 years with his lovely wife Dellas [member 332]. Both of them loved growing and showing orchids. Keith also assisted on numerous social BBQ's and Bunnings BBQs. He and Dellas even took on the messy job of slicing huge bags of onions for such events. That is true dedication to the cause! Keith and Dellas had been married over 50 years and have two children. Valé Keith.

WHEN CAN YOU HAVE TOO MANY NAMES?

I thought other researchers were a little crazy when I first saw this Ancestry entry for a lady whose daughter married into my family.

Her full name is... wait for it ... Agnes Alice Tweedhope Tolmie Kennedy MIDDLEMISS, born in 1880 in Gore, New Zealand. Her parents were Andrew John MIDDLEMISS and Mary TOLMIE. Andrew and Mary went on to have nine more children. Most of the females received lengthy names:

1882 Grace Margaret Whitelaw Tolmie MIDDLEMISS

1884 Mary Ada Tweedhope Tolmie MIDDLEMISS

1886 Evangeline Jane Weir Tolmie and her twin Janet Marion Shillinglaw MIDDLEMISS

Then they seemed to run out of ideas:

1889 Gertrude Isabella MIDDLEMISS, 1890 Andrew John MIDDLEMISS junior, 1893 Adam Robert MIDDLEMISS, and 1897 Robert Bell MIDDLEMISS then they had another daughter in 1895 and she was given the full treatment of Alice Marie Christina Lees MIDDLEMISS.

I looked back a little way and found that Mary's parents were Adam TOLMIE and Agnes Cooper TWEEDHOPE and Andrew's parents were Robert Bell MIDDLEMISS and Agnes KENNEDY.

I have yet to find the relevance of WHITELAW, WEIR, SHILLINGLAW or LEES. Perhaps they were family friends or extended relatives, or even benefactors. Who knows?

Agnes Alice had a child out of wedlock, called Violet Adella MIDDLEMISS in 1907. She married into my family in 1933, as Violet Adella RYDER. I have not yet discovered any marriage for Violet to someone called RYDER or even her mother Agnes marrying someone of that name.

Agnes then went on to marry a Thomas TATE in 1914 and had more children. Some of her siblings also went on to marry in NZ. Grace married John HARTLEY in 1901, Mary married Jonathan BURNBY in 1905, Janet [as Jessie Marion Janet] married Alfred RAILEY in 1908, Evangeline died after having a child, at age 16, in 1902. The child, Myrtle Evangeline Jane, was raised as a sibling rather than a granddaughter. Sadly, she later died young, in 1918.

Andrew's obituary in November 1917 gave some useful details.

OTAGO WITNESS, ISSUE 3321, 7 NOVEMBER 1917, PAGE 26

"He leaves a widow, seven daughters (five of whom are married), and three sons. One is a returned soldier, a second is on active service, and the third is stationed at the Central Battery, Dunedin."

This family provided a veritable warren of rabbit holes to investigate, and it seems I am easily distracted by something out of the ordinary.

THE OVERLAP BETWEEN LOCAL HISTORY AND FAMILY HISTORY.

To people unfamiliar with our group, when we mention our name, they seem to think we only research families that are connected with Wyong. We then explain that this is the location of our facilities and that we actually research people from all over the world. I am sure virtually every group has need of the same explanation to newcomers.

Family history and local history are, of course, linked. Our people had to live somewhere, and interact with others around them. They are part of the history of that location. It is therefore important to include information about these places in your family stories. Were your people pioneers in some way? Were they involved in local businesses, local government, a church, school or sporting team? This information adds 'flesh' to the bones of your ancestors and is essential if you want to understand their lives.

For those with connections to old Wyong Shire, we recommend a visit to Wyong Historical Society and its Museum at Alison Homestead, on Cape Rd., just outside of Wyong township. They have a large collection of resources, so it is worth a visit. They also have a website. <https://alisonhomestead.com.au/> .

We also have a large collection of local history resources at our Cottage. Some years ago, we amalgamated previous versions of our Pioneer Registers into one large volume. We were aware, at the time, that some families were not represented, and other records supplied to us, needed some tidying up. We are currently doing a revision of this resource. See our website for details and forms.

As well as the files we hold on pioneer families, we have a section on our website called Register of One Place Studies, accessible from an icon on our main page. You will find lots of information on different families, suburbs, photos of then and now, and much more.

Central Coast Library Service also has excellent local history resources. It is worth checking out their website www.libraries.centralcoast.nsw.gov.au and then the Family & local history tab. Happy researching, wherever your ancestors hail from! ... ❖

A LITTLE ABOUT BUDGEWOI

Our Heritage Souvenir Newspaper Friday March 7, 1986.

"The area we now know as Budgewoi was originally given the name Pudgeway.

"This was the name given to his 640-acre land grant by John Slade, who came to Australia as a free man in 1827.

"In her booklet Place Names of the Central Coast, Elleen Pratt notes that the NSW Calendar and General Post Office Directory of 1832 calls the area Podgeway – "two miles further to the right is the shore of Tuggerah Beach Lakes, and on either side ex-tending out into the lakes are the mouths of the Wyong and Tuggerah Creeks"

"Robert Henderson, of Veteran Hall, purchased the grant in 1841 and renamed it Budgeway.

"When it became known as Budgewoi has not been established, but there is a reference to Budgewoi plains in 1861.

"An Aboriginal word, it has been given two interpretations – young grass, or decayed weed washed up on beach or shore."

BUDGEWOI PUBLIC SCHOOL

(An excerpt from "From Pudgeyway to Budgewoi" originally compiled by Bruce Russell in 1983 and since updated.)

"The Budgewoi Public School was built in 1961, the first headmaster being Mr R. Passlow. He had a staff of five and about 150 pupils in the original block on the corner of Woolana and Lukela avenues.

The official record of the school states that a teacher was appointed in January, 1960 and the first class started in February, 1960.

It is possible that these pupils could have been taught at the Budgewoi Hall, the only one available at the time. The alternative would have been a home or a marquee.

DID YOU KNOW?

Ferries

In the days when the roads were dreadful, the way to get to The Entrance from Wyong was via ferry. A ferry from Budgewoi to see the flix at The Entrance in the 1950s was not unusual.

The wharf was great because the Hely Basin provided a handy spot where the ferries could turn around. Some of the ferries were pretty big, seating upwards of 150 people.

Ferries of the 20s era were still running from the old Toukley Boatshed to Wyong River in the early to mid-70s.

Tour the Lakes by Ferry

How delightful it was in the days of the ferry boats to go for launch trips down the river and across the lakes – much more leisurely and much more pleasant than the present journey by car or by bus – to The Entrance and Toukley and elsewhere. Tourists were well catered for, and could enjoy trips around the lakes.

Rutile Mining

Rutile Mining along Budgewoi Beach
Rutile dredge mining operations commenced along Budgewoi Beach in 1966 and finished in 1973. For the floating rutile dredge to operate all vegetation was removed and dozers provided a trench for the dredging unit to float. Local coal mines provided coal, chitter* for trucks to negotiate soft sand areas to collect rutile and truck it to port. The reshaping of the dune topography was carried out in the most economical way, ignoring the fragility of the coastal environment.

The hind dune areas were planted with tea tree (leptospermum laevigatum) using a brush matting method. The foredune area was planted out with bitou bush (Chrysanthemoides monilifera subsp. rotundata). This mining process and its subsequent rehabilitation threatened the entire natural biodiversity of our coastline and became the catalyst for volunteer communities to form Dunecare groups to restore the coastline and its natural biodiversity values.

- Chitter, a product of coal-mining operations, is a mixture of low grade, the bush or used as fill in road embankments or railway sidings. it can be ignited by bushfires or through spontaneous combustion.

During mid-February 1942 the "SS Gwydir" had been in a collision with the Free French Freighter "Neo Hebrides" and ended up being damaged and drifted onto the rocks north of Norah Head. Children went out to see the wreck and watched local people salvaging from the ship. It is thought the local milkman may have salvaged the Gwydir doors. George McPhan stated in 1991 that he believed that much of the timber and many of the ship's fittings were incorporated into the house built by the Sutherland family. The house still stands today in 2021 at 30 Main Rd Toukley.

THE BUDGEWOI I REMEMBER

Chris Ullrich (nee Buckingham) member 224

In the late 1950s, at my age of 10 years, we moved to Budgewoi from Wangi. Dad was following the power station work from Wangi to Vales Point. We camped in 2 tents in the sand dunes of Budgewoi until a house was found. House found and had no electricity for 12 months plus outside pan toilet.

There was no primary school then until 1961, children needed to attend Toukley Primary School. A walk or drive to the school bus stop was necessary and that would be one of the reasons Mum had Dad teach her to drive at age 30 when she had to use all those dirt roads.

Budgewoi Feature

I did 5th grade at Toukley then last year of Primary at Budgewoi in 1961 when the school opened. The Headmaster was Mr. Passmore and Mrs. Passmore was teaching various subjects.

My largest emotional memory is of being left-handed and told to hand sew right-handed. We were making a red/white/blue checked gathered skirt with a waist band.

Milk was available plus vegemite or peanut butter bread crusts.

At assembly each morning we sang God Save the Queen.

Budgewoi Hotel was not there in The Circle; on the land at the time was a Hall where we attended Sunday School. The Circle held a general store, haberdashery, Catholic church, Post Office, Bait and Tackle shop, Howarth's Estate Agent and Nowland's Butchery.

One of two halls, the Catholic Church Hall at the time was used for various activities – Church, pictures, dancing and banking (Commercial Bank of Australia). The manager from Toukley would go to Budgewoi on certain days for community banking needs. The Hall area was approximately where The Circle is.

The Bridge over the Creek was wooden and lower than today, as was the road. My young brother, age 5 or 6 at one time was found jumping off the bridge. Mum took on a Fruit and Vegetable shop in The Circle in 1962. There was a skating rink* and further down looking over at McKenzie Park was a bakery and two businesses.

At Budgewoi Square (Halekulani), the shops were very different. Coles today is sitting fairly close to where a Shell Garage and Hardware store was. Arterial roads off the main road up Hali end were mainly untarred. The street we lived in was called Kahala Ave, renamed Delia Ave in later years.

Dad actually had a few pigs penned on vacant land opposite our house. This land is where Budgewoi School is now and there was a quick effort to remove the pigs once it was made known the clearing would start.

Bevington Shores Village in Sunrise Ave was previously a Youth Camp in the bush by the lake, with not many homes in the street. The prawning was great, big catches and a fire with a 5-gallon tin sitting there to cook the prawns.

Budgewoi Feature

So so much has changed and there could be many more stories from Budgewoi.

**Also mentioned in the book held by WFHG "Blue Gum Flat to Budgewoi" written by C. Swancott and available in the library of WFHG.*

MY MEMORIES OF BUDGEWOI

Lyn Clark-Duff member 907

I commenced spending my annual holidays at Budgewoi in 1963 when I stayed with my husband's family in the old fibro cottage built by his grandparents in Werepi Street, 2nd house from the beach. It is the first street after Lakes Beach going south and is officially called Noraville.

In 1980, having married and started our own family, Dave and I bought an old fibro house in Sunrise Avenue, Budgewoi on Lake Munmorah. We spent many happy holidays there, enjoying various water sports on the lake – water skiing, sailing, sailboarding etc. Our daughters used to swing on a rope across the creek at the start of Natuna Avenue and jump off the iconic foot bridge.

Whilst some parts of the lake had sandy shores, we often had to trudge through the shallows, with slimy mud squeezing between our toes, to reach our watercraft. This did not deter our young daughters and their friends who would sometimes give themselves an all-over beauty treatment by covering themselves in mud. We also used to go prawning at night, which is no longer viable due to the state of the lake.

Most of our neighbours' families have owned their properties for many years (both permanent residences and holiday houses). They knew the original owners of our property, Mr and Mrs Monk, whose house was apparently the first built in Sunrise Avenue and they had lived there for many years before moving to aged care accommodation. Our lot had been surrounded by swamps before they were filled in for development and, so far, we have escaped flooding even when the lake has risen much further into our neighbours' properties. The Monks had recalled wild brumbies living in the reserve between their house and the lake.

Over the years the state of Lake Munmorah has been the subject of many environmental studies and much debate. Some said the rotting weed is due to the warm water pumped into the lake by Lake Munmorah Power Station (now dismantled); others said that it is due to increased urban development, detergents and fertilizers. Another issue is that Lake Munmorah is the top lake of the three linked Tuggerah lakes and the water does not get refreshed by the limited amount of sea water which enters Tuggerah Lake at The Entrance. No doubt the prevailing north-east winds were also a contributing factor in depositing rotting weed on our side of the lake.

Budgewoi Feature

By 2010, our old fibro house had been practically carried away by white ants and it was finally demolished. We love living in our "new" retirement house which was built with our grown family and grandchildren in mind. It was particularly valuable during the Covid lock-down periods, when we could sit on our deck overlooking the reserve and the lake, observing the many species of birds – kookaburras, butcher birds, magpies, lorikeets, rosellas, ducks, crested pigeons and the less appealing noisy miners. Unfortunately, we have recently been invaded by bush turkeys which are determined to dig up my garden.

BUDGEWOI SAILING CLUB

Lyn Clark-Duff member 907

The community project of which I was part in conjunction with CC Council, to revitalize the un-named area on Lake Munmorah at the end of Noela Place (where there was a problem with graffiti and vandalism). We collected the information and photos from local individuals and worked with Council to create the collection of photos and stories about the sailing club and the area in general. The mural was officially launched at a special sailing regatta where former members came from all over Australia to compete at Budgewoi one last time. Sadly, the sailing club has now ceased to exist.

Photos: Lyn Clark-Duff

Imparting love of sailing his greatest legacy
Sailing master Ashley Chapman was one of Australia's great dinghy sailing enthusiasts, and mentor for more than 40 years to hundreds of young NSW sailors. He raced his 4.8-metre Corsair class dinghy Sadie Too at Budgewoi Sailing Club until just 18 months before his death.

Chapman talked with the American pilot Amelia Earhart before her fateful take-off from Lae in the then mandated territory of New Guinea in 1937. After the Japanese invasion of New Guinea in 1942 he trekked to safety across the forbidding Bismarck Range in one of the epic escapes of the war.

However, it is as a passionate dinghy sailor after he and his wife Sadie retired to Budgewoi in 1968 that he is remembered.

Ashley Leonard Chapman was born on July 29, 1913, in Hounslow, London. His interest in sailing was first sparked by the fishing smacks he loved to use to explore during annual family seaside holidays in Kent.

His widowed mother emigrated to Australia in 1926 and her children joined her as opportunity and funds allowed. Chapman arrived in 1930 aged 17.

He graduated as a court reporter in 1933, then parlayed his excellent shorthand into a stenographer/clerk job at Burns Philp's trading post in Salamaua, on the north coast of New Guinea, at £18 a month, tax free.

At Salamaua he met (and had a crush on) the anthropologist Margaret Mead. He would swim with her, infatuated with both her beauty and her sense of independence. Feminism, when it arrived years later, always had an unalloyed supporter in Ashley Chapman.

In 1937, Chapman took a launch across the Huon Gulf to Lae to see Amelia Earhart as she passed through in her attempt at a record circumnavigation of the world.

He met her at her hotel and attended a dinner party for her that night. On the morning of July 2, 1937, he was in the small crowd that watched Earhart nurse her heavily laden Lockheed into the air, headed for tiny Howland Island in the mid-Pacific. She was never seen again.

Chapman met and married Russian-born Sadie (nee Romanov) in New Guinea in 1938. After the Pacific war broke out, she caught one of the last trading ships to Australia but Chapman stayed to help refuel RAAF aircraft stationed at Salamaua airstrip.

When the RAAF pulled out he destroyed his depot and struck out inland on January 25, 1942, the last civilian to leave. He watched the Japanese land from a coastwatcher's camp in the hills above.

Budgewoi Feature

Ashley and Sadie developed a pioneering self-serve general store at Malabar after the war and prospered, retiring early to the central coast, where he co-founded Budgewoi Sailing Club in 1972 and devoted the rest of his long life to imparting his love of sailing to others.

In a speech in 1990 he observed: "Hundreds of youngsters have gone through my sailing classes over the years. I cannot recall one who became a social liability."

Sadie died in 1997. Ashley Chapman was awarded the Australian Sports Medal in 2000.

*The Regatta Calling All Skippers was held in February 2020 in memory of Ashley Chapman and this article was written by Kathryn Bourke and Tony Maiden SMH

MY VISITS TO BUDGEWOI THE BUDGEWOI I REMEMBER

Lynda Smith. LM2.

I returned to full time high school teaching in 1988, after a break of eight years caring for our three children. We lived at Gorokan at the time. Northlakes High School is not far from Budgewoi and many of my students lived there. Whenever I taught local history, I always included information about the European settlement of Budgewoi, San Remo, Doyalson and areas north. The Advocate Newspaper had produced a souvenir edition in 1986 that covered local history and we had multiple copies of this newspaper. I used it as a valuable source for many years.

I also spent many years supervising school students on sports days, where we engaged in what was called 'Beach Fitness' at either Lakes Beach or those around Norah Head. My main job was to try and keep the students out of the water and get them to remove as much sand as possible from themselves before getting back on the bus. The bus drivers did not enjoy transporting the Beach Fitness groups!

My husband's father had a strong connection with Lakes Surf Club. He was one of their first Bronze Medal Trainers, having been an active member of Bondi Surf Club in the late 1930s to the early 1950s. Alan's family moved up from Sydney to Wyong in the mid-1950s and Stewart was a popular electrician in the area. My sister-in-law lived on the main road for a few years and some of her children attended Budgewoi Primary School.

Stewart Smith, about 1939 and his blazer badge, which we still possess.

Other connections I had were of a more personal nature. My hairdresser lived in Budgewoi and worked from her home, and my dentist had rooms upstairs at the end of the small shopping centre. The shopping centre was very basic back then.

I was also a Brownie Guide Leader back then, and Budgewoi had active Brownie and Guide packs. I ran the one at Wyongah and our daughter Erin started as a Brownie in 1989. On special occasions in Guiding we would often make use of the lovely park area near the lake and have everyone from the nearby units attend. There was shade, public toilets and plenty of room to run about.

My parents were active members of the Central Coast Historic Car Club [CCHCC] and quite often made use of the pavilion and BBQ facilities at the same park. Their vintage and veteran cars made a good show in the carpark. My family would quite often join my parents for lunch there, when their run came up this way. After my father passed in 1992, our family donated a Memorial Trophy in his name and their February Car Run became a Memorial one for members who had passed. Since then, until my mother's passing in 2022, our family has attended every February Run, and many of these included either a morning tea stop or lunch stop at Budgewoi.

Our two sons played soccer for Kanwal and we spent many a chilly Saturday cheering for them at Budgewoi Soccer field. Now, our grandsons play soccer for Toukley and we are back, as doting grandparents, lugging folding chairs and other gear with us. I am sure soccer fields are 15 degrees colder than anywhere else!

My hairdresser has moved out to the valleys and I have accepted defeat and let my hair go grey and un-permed. My dentist has retired, and now enjoys woodworking with my husband in the Central Coast Woodturner's Group. I retired from Guiding due to ill health in 1995, but our daughter continued on to become a Queen's Guide and a Ranger Guide.

Last time I was in Budgewoi was 2023, when I was doing a Family History talk for a community group that meets at the Halekulani Bowling Club. We have also discovered that a Take Away food shop near Budgewoi Primary School has a vast array of Gluten free foods, so we visit there on occasion. There are very few empty house blocks now, and the shopping centre has expanded a little, but for me, Budgewoi still retains its sleepy, picturesque appeal.

NAZI MINE NEAR GOSFORD

The Sydney Morning Herald reference on Tuesday April 8th 1941.

“Washed ashore from an old field, a German contact which was found embedded in the sand on the beach at Budgewoi, 23 miles north of Gosford yesterday morning was exploded last night by naval men from Garden Island. It caused a huge crater. Before the arrival of the officials several civilians apparently unaware of the danger had handled the protuberances on the mine which had broken away from the field laid by an enemy raider some time ago. The mine was seen floating in the sea half a mile offshore on Sunday” “While walking on the beach Mr. W Ray a fisherman stumbled on the mine half buried in the sand at 7am today. Most of the mine had been bent or broken off and it had apparently been in the water a long time. Mr. Ray reported the mine at the Toukley Post Office, which advised Garden Island. After a preliminary inspection the naval men sent back to Sydney for explosive charges. The first one was put beneath the mine in blinding rain and failed to go off. A heavier charge was tried from a distance of about 1,000 yards. The mine exploded with a terrific roar”.

FIELD THOUROUGHLY SWEEP

A naval spokesman said yesterday there was no doubt that the mine had broken loose from a field laid by a raider some time ago. This field had been thoroughly swept. A specially trained staff was maintained at Garden Island for rendering mines safe. This was the first mine washed up on the New South Wales coast in this war. The spokesman pointed out that rewards were paid by the Department of the Navy for the discovery of mines. For a mine discovered and delivered within two miles of the coast the reward is two pounds and beyond two miles five pounds. For the report of a washed-up mine on the coast the reward of ten shillings.

PART INTERVIEW WITH BILL HANSON ABOUT THE BOMBING OF BIRD ISLAND

Ernest Buckley member 873

“I can clearly remember the Australian RAAF Wirraways which would fly in formations of two or three aircraft approaching from the north and then they would fly around and carry out their bombing raids on the southern side of Bird Island. The bombed area can be seen cratered out in close up photos.

At the same time the Wirraways were bombing and machine gun strafing Bird Island a crash boat would circle around near Bird Island. The crash boat was a small fishing boat and was secretly located there in the event there was an accident.

“Prior to the Wirraway Pilots attacking Bird Island they would line up their aircraft and attack the Island in formation. As the dive bomb attacked the Island, they would strafe it with their machine guns and release their bombs only feet from the top of the Island.

Wirraway Formation Training RAAF Radschool Association

Aces Flying High-WorldPress.com

"On one bombing exercise aimed at Bird Island one of the Wirraway aircrafts flew down so low it clipped the top of a tree and damaged the aircraft.

The pilot managed to fly the aircraft over to the shore line then crash landed near Budgewoi on the beachside grasslands. The RAAF may have stopped bombing Bird Island after that accident, but according to locals the RAAF restarted using Bird Island for bombing practice after the War ended. Locals also stated that the bombing was severe and created shock waves that shook the Light House. There was a concern or complaint the bombing shock waves were damaging the Light House building.

"Bill stated we would always enjoy viewing the Bombing Raids on Bird Island and would watch and wait for the fly over after their bombing raids had taken place. The pilots would bring their aircraft in from the north, then circle around the lake and fly over us. As they flew over us, they would pull back their cock-pit hatch and wave to us. This was a great Wartime experience.

"During mid-February 1942 the "SS Gwydir" had been in a collision with the Free French Freighter "Neo Hebrides" and ended up being damaged and drifted onto the rocks north of Norah Head. I went out with other children to see the wreck and watched local people salvaging from the ship. I think the local milkman may have salvaged the Gwydir doors."

George McPhan stated in 1991 that he believed that much of the timber and many of the ship's fittings were incorporated into the house built by the Sutherland family. The house may still stand as it did in 2021 at 30 Main Rd Toukley.

The Sutherland Bros were the successful tenderers for the salvage rights of the Gwydir. Bill stated that after the salvaging rights were awarded then the company traveled around the area looking for salvaged items from the boat and repossessed them.

THE CAC WIRRAWAY

Budgewoi Feature

Wikipedia States: The CAC Wirraway is named after the Aboriginal word "Challenge" and was a training and general-purpose Military Aircraft manufactured in Australia by the Commonwealth Air Corporation (CAC) between 1939 to 1946. During the Second World War both the Royal Australian Air Force and Royal Australian Navy (RAN) developed a number of "Wirraways" into combat roles, where they served in makeshift light bomber/ground attack capacity striking against the advancing forces of the Empire of Japan.

JOHN TUNKS REMEMBERS

Produced by Ernest Buckley (Dip Appl Sci DT Syd Uni) July 2020 (member 873)

Budgewoi and Bombs

John was born in Wyong March 1934 and a Life Member of the Norah Head Boating & Recovery Club.

He lived at Dooralong on his father's farm and orange orchard.

During WW2 John lived at Dooralong and could remember the searchlights in the night sky over Newcastle.

Boats from The Entrance were docked at Porters Creek at Wyong with the threat of invasion by Japanese Forces. Soldier Guards were stationed at the boats for protection and one of the Soldiers Committed Suicide. It was probably thought, by the Soldier that invasion by the Japanese was inevitable.

During the War years John was taken on holidays to Budgewoi by his father. In those days Budgewoi was mainly bush and sand hills and John and his father would walk through the sand hills to Budgewoi Beach to go fishing.

While they were fishing on the Beach, Wirraway RAAF Bombers would fly to Bird Island from the south and practice strafing and bombing the Island. The Bombers in groups of two or three would fly down very low firing their machine guns and also bomb the Island. Then fly off over the beach.

Budgewoi Feature

The Bomber Pilots flew that low John and his father could easily see the two young pilots who smiled and waved to them on the beach.

Followed by Bombers up the Beach

The bombing was very close to John and his father and was ferocious and the pilots kept flying near them on the beach waving and smiling. John said the young pilots were having fun.

The Pilots flew the Wirraway Bombers close to the Island strafing it with machine guns and then releasing their bombs only feet from the tops of the trees on the island and then later flew low over the surface of the beach and land.

Johns father decided to move further up the beach to move away from all the action. As they moved up the beach so did the Pilots with their Bombers. The pilots thought it was funny and laughed at them on the beach attempting to move away from the target practice.

Later John heard the news that one of the Wirraway Bombers had crashed. It had flown down very low over Bird Island and clipped a tree and was damaged. It managed to make its way over to the shore and then crashed landed.

John visited the crashed Wirraway Bomber site and said it had come down in a grassed area back from the beach. The wreck was later used for spares by the RAAF.

Shirley Denning (nee Fullagar) who was a pupil at Toukley Public School at that time, stated in 1991 that children from the Toukley Public School were taken to see the Wirraway Aircraft that had crash-landed on the beach.

John stated that the RAAF stopped using the Bird Island for target practice after the Wirraway Bomber Crash.

He also recalls there was a WW2 Airforce Landing Strip built at Tuggerah and a local man had cleared the site for the strip with his tractor.

In April 1841 the convict ship Rajah set sail from Woolwich and arrived in Van Diemen's Land on the 19th July 1841 after a 105 day journey.

There were a total of 179 female convicts on board upon arrival, only one having died en route, and they had all been provided with a basic pack of items including knife, fork, apron and sewing materials. These were supplied by the British Ladies Society for Promoting the Reformation of Female Prisoners headed by Elizabeth Fry, the Quaker leader of this Organization founded in 1817. They were distributed by Lydia Irving who worked with the same group. Elizabeth had persuaded Government officials that keeping the convict women occupied and making items that they could perhaps sell on arrival was a very good idea to keep the peace on board.

The first Matron who undertook the office on board a convict ship was Mrs. Saunders, the wife of a missionary who went out on the George Hibbert in 1834. She was so ill on the trip that her husband undertook most of the work but the custom persisted.

The Matron onboard the Rajah was Kezia Hayter and she is the person it is believed who instigated the making of a quilt which measures 325x337 cms to be presented to the Governor's wife Lady Jane Franklin on arrival in Tasmania.

ELIZABETH FRY READING TO THE PRISONERS AT NEWGATE, 1823

Stitched at the bottom of the quilt is a panel with the following words on it –

TO THE LADIES of the Convict ship committee.

This quilt worked by the Convicts of the ship Rajah during their voyage to van Diemens Land is presented as a testimony to the gratitude with which they remember their exertions for their welfare while in England and during their passage and also as proof that they have not neglected the Ladies kind admonition of being industrious.

June 1841

Kezia had been a visitor to the Millbank Penitentiary in London and a member of the Ladies Society and the aim was for her to assist Lady Franklin to start a similar organization in Tasmania. The quilt has become famous as it is the only documented quilt made by convicts that survives to this day.

The Master of the Rajah was Charles Ferguson and he and Kezia formed a bond on the journey and married in Tasmania at Hobart in July 1842.

In 1851 Captain Charles Ferguson became the Harbour Master for Geelong, and then the Harbour Master for Williamstown. Charles and Kezia settled at Williamstown.

At some stage the quilt was returned to England with the aim of presenting it to Elizabeth Fry. However, it is not known whether it reached her before her death. Its whereabouts for the following 147 years is unknown. Amazingly the quilt was found in an attic in Scotland in 1989 and sent back to Australia.

Today it is known as the Rajah Quilt and is held by the National Gallery of Australia. From 16th March to 25th August this year the Gallery is holding A Century of Quilts Exhibition with the Rajah Quilt being the star of the show.

| This index has been compiled from the WFHG Inc. cemetery database. It includes burials [and niches] at Jilliby and Noraville Cemeteries and the burials at Ronkana, St Barnabas [Yarramalong] and Yarramalong Cemeteries. Books have been produced for each individual cemetery that provide additional details such as photographs, headstone inscriptions and, in the case of Ronkana, St Barnabas and Yarramalong Cemeteries, newspaper death, funeral or probate notices for some of the burials. The WFHG Inc. acknowledges the work of Mr Vince McKenzie and his son Clive, gravediggers, whose records form the core of our index. We also acknowledge the CC Council Bereavement Officers for their contribution to our records. Contains cemetery maps, Deceased details – name, age, date of burial, grave location [section, row, plot], some records have birth dates and maiden names. Includes all graves including those unmarked. 220 pages |                           |                           |

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

We would like to acknowledge the Darkinjung people as Traditional Custodians of the land on which we meet. We pay our respects to the Elders, past, present, and future, and recognise the continuing connection and contribution to this land. We would like to extend that respect to any First Nations people who are our readers.
