Welcome to this edition of our Newsletter.

The Australian Tax Office has changed rules for not-for-profit organisations, which will affect many of our societies. Many groups have contacted the committee for more information. So, as a result, a special Zoom meeting for secretaries and treasurers and anyone else interested was held. Now is the time for all societies to do their self-assessments for the past tax year.

Museums of History NSW, previously known as NSW State Archives, put a call out for assistance from Societies to assist with scanning and transcribing the records of the Small Debt Books. There are over 300 books for the state, discussions were held with Martyn Killion via Zoom before several societies put our hands up to assist with this, covering about half the collection, but it is hoped that societies might do other books so that the collection can be completed. My Society has completed the Picton Books. I found several of my own ancestors while transcribing the books, who knew that my great uncle leased land for his animals beside what he owned.

Sadly, my mother, Helen, died in October 2023 just 4 short months after my father, which was a shock to all. After cleaning out their house of 55 years, much of their belongings ended up at my place to decide what was needed and what was not. I am amazed as to my findings, she wrote her story, her first day at boarding school where she ended up being a godmother to a baby baptised that day, followed by the reasons her family moved to this area, another story, why her grandmother moved from Victoria to New South Wales, where she met her husband to be. This is just my family, the work she did for our local society was amazing and Kate, our librarian, is starting to dread me going into the rooms as I bring more information to be filed. Not to forget her book collection, many I already have, she loved a good bargain and came home from many conferences with new or old books.

The Association sits on the AFFHO Committee. Their tri-annual conference will be held in Brisbane in March 2025. Called Australasian Conference Connections 2025 – PAST – PRESENT – FUTURE. More information is available on their website and below in this newsletter.

I would like to congratulate Heather Garnsey, who received The Medal of the Order of Australia in this year's King's Birthday Honours. The work she has done in the field of genealogy and family history is amazing. The honour is well deserved.

I would like to thank all the members of the committee for their assistance and support in the past year, our meetings are always informative. Our members serve the Association very well with our individual expertise. I would particularly like to thank Richard Goss, our representative from Richmond Tweed, as he retires from the committee, and also Nick Reddan who has been a committee member for many years. Nick has kindly agreed to continue as our Webmaster.

Best Wishes to all our members,

Gail.

November Management Committee Meeting

This was held on Sunday 10th November 2024 via Zoom. Seven committee members were present. Some important points from that meeting were:

7. Conference Reports

7.1 - The State Conference was held as a virtual, mini conference on Saturday 14th September 2024.

We received some very positive feedback regarding the day. 192 individuals registered as well as 8 societies. The sessions were recorded and are still available to those who registered through the dedicated link which was sent out to everyone. For those who attended the day as a society group your organiser has the link.

Recipients of the Cynthia Foley Encouragement Award and the Dorothy Fellowes Website Awards are as follows:

7.2 - 2025 Conference Update by Judy Bull

The Illawarra FHG Conference Committee has already made considerable progress in their organisation for next year's conference. A 2025 Conference Website and Facebook Page will be available shortly.

8. Other Reports:

8. 1 - Australian Federation of Family History Organisations (AFFHO)

The next Congress will be held on 21st – 23rd March 2025 in Brisbane, Queensland. See further details below.

8.3 - Website Report – Please encourage your society to add their events, book launches or presentations as this is a free service and has a wide reach.

9. General Business

9.1 – Grant Applications

Four grant applications were approved at our November Management Committee Meeting. A letter notifying these societies of their success will be sent out shortly and funds will be deposited into the respective society banks accounts via direct debit.
